

Directed GIVING

UC Davis School of Law is proud to recognize the extraordinary contributions that friends, alumni, faculty, and staff have made to support endowments and scholarships and other privately raised funds established for the benefit of the Law School. Each of these dedicated funds provide invaluable support and is critical to the future of King Hall.

Thank you to everyone who contributed so generously to make these supporting funds a reality. Each of them continue to grow, and more will be created as UC Davis School of Law continues to build its private support for students, faculty, and academic and public service programs.

DONOR PROFILE

Mark Perry '80 and Melanie Peña

"My time at King Hall provided me with a high-quality legal education that has prepared me well for my career in law, as well as business," says Mark Perry '80, president and CEO of Aerovance Inc, a biotechnology company in Berkeley, focused on the development of therapies to treat respiratory and allergic diseases.

Mark and his wife, Melanie Peña, married in 1975, recently named the Career Services Offices through a generous gift to the King Hall Building Expansion and Renovation Project.

"Melanie and I believe that the renovation and expansion program will ultimately enable the School to educate more students, in a more effective way, with improved facilities. We chose to name the Career Services Offices in connection with our contribution because of the help I received from Career Services during my time at King Hall, and its importance to the success of future students."

Melanie is a licensed clinical social worker who specializes in the treatment of adolescents and severely mentally disabled clients. She was a therapist with Family Service Agency of Marin, McAuley's Children's Psychiatric Unit, and Cordilleras Mental Health Center. Currently, she serves on the Community Advisory Board for the Family Service Agency of Marin.

Prior to joining Aerovance Inc., Mark was the senior business advisor for Gilead Sciences, Inc., reporting to the CEO. He was an executive officer of Gilead from 1994 to 2004, serving in a variety of capacities, including General Counsel, Chief Financial Officer and, most recently, Executive Vice President of Operations, responsible for worldwide sales & marketing, legal, manufacturing, and facilities. From 1981 to 1994, Mark was with the law firm Cooley Godward Kronish LLP.

He says about his time in Law School, "I made many new friends and opened my mind to new ideas and opportunities I would have never considered otherwise. I do not think I would have had such a diverse and positive experience at any other law school, and I attribute that to the unique faculty and student body at King Hall."

He added, "I believe it is critical for each of us to support the School in any way we can so King Hall can continue to educate future generations of lawyers with a diversity of backgrounds."
